

This November Celebrate

Fangsgiving

with the Queen of the Paranormal

Rosemary Ellen Guiley

NOW OPEN!

Fangsgiving Event Saturday, November 19

7:00 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

$20 per person

Price includes admission to the museum and light refreshments.

Come meet popular author of 40+ books, Queen of the Paranormal Rosemary Ellen Guiley and enjoy her lecture presenting legends and lore of the restless undead—vampires!

Her books will be available for purchase!

Peruse the museums artifacts, magazines, toys and other items of a mysterious nature. Whether you're interested in Bigfoot, fascinated by ghosts or aliens & UFOs; or find the history of spirit communication and ghost hunting captivating—there is something for anyone who's ever pondered unique mysteries.

The museum houses a research center with access to books, magazines and newspaper articles with some extremely rare pieces and many donated by the top researchers in their respective fields.

The National Museum of Mysteries & Research Center is located at:
Third & Locust Streets in Columbia, Pennsylvania. Entrance is on the Third Street side of the building, down the stairs. (Don't be afraid!)

To Register:
E-mail Museum Curator Rick Fisher at—rfisher@paranormalpa.net or contact him by “liking” The National Museum of Mysteries & Research Center on Facebook.
Please register by November 17th so adequate seating and snacks can be prepared.