“ROO’S” BOOS - by Kelly Weaver

New Years is the time most people make resolutions concerning health, breaking bad habits, etc. Well, I found something that will help me with my healthy quest.....The Tranquility Salon and Wellness Center in Carlisle.

In the past two weeks I was lucky enough to spend 2 sessions in the Salt Cave at the Tranquility Salon & Wellness Center in Carlisle. Wow, what a neat experience! Melissa and I ventured to the spa on a Friday afternoon followed by lunch and a visit to a local bookstore. I felt like a noodle when I was done in the cave. I loved it so much John and I decided to go on Saturday. He loved it as well and now we will make a monthly visit to the cave to sit in silence, listen to beautiful music, gaze up at the ‘star filled ceiling’ and breathe in healing air.

Here is information (taken from their site) about the Salt Cave:

Tranquility Salon’s salt cave is made up of over 10 tons of salt imported from the Himalayas, by using such large quantities for salt, a unique microclimate with its exceptional bacteriological cleanliness is achieved.

Salt Crystal stones produce air that is saturated with negative ions, which are crucial for a healthy body. Rich in negative ions and minerals, the micro elementary particles like sodium, potassium, calcium, magnesium, iron, bromine & iodine are loosened into the air.

When negative ion concentration is lowered and people inhale more positive ions from toxic air (the kind we are exposed to daily) can cause headaches, lethargy, dizziness, nausea, depression, indigestion problems, and irritability. Negative ions are absorbed into the human body during the therapy by breathing saturated air into ones lungs. This improves the intake and supply of these irreplaceable elements which are necessary for good health, performance and overall fitness for ALL AGES. The microclimate in our salt cave contains ALL those MINERALS and is almost the ideal location for inhalation. This treatment accelerates healing and helps our bodies get back into balance.

Arthritis and Sinus issues are amongst the conditions Halo Therapy is said to treat, and being afflicted with both, I can tell you I felt wonderful after my experience - not just physically, but also mentally and emotionally. ‘Walking on air’ might be the most apt description - my body and spirit really felt lightened after our session. I look forward to the next and greatly thank Melissa and Kelly for their discovery. - JDW

MUSINGS WITH MATT - "THE MOMENT" by Matt James

There are several ways one looks at the paranormal field. You have your people who are firmly against it, nothing short of Big foot attacking them in the woods, their house being crushed by a UFO or the Library scene in Ghostbusters would convince them that something paranormal exists. Although, if they saw that it would bring up the question of is it paranormal or just normal but that is a question for another time. Then you have true skeptics, ones who believe the paranormal field is possible, but prove it to us. Personally, a friend who is a true skeptic and looks at the field with true open eyes I say is one of the greatest friend and gifts one in the field can have. It keeps us true and grounded. However, watch out for those whom call themselves skeptical but actually are not... talk about headaches they give you. Then you have believers - it just makes sense. How could it not be, we believe yes there are such things but they lack that one thing. They could talk to others and others might have them question their belief system. They have not had THE MOMENT. The moment that when you have been in the field long enough you have that one moment which changes everything. It is usually something which touches yourself so deep and personal you can never doubt again.

This story begins back in August at the Gettysburg Paranormal Gathering. It was a three day event with people from paranormal groups getting together to share time. Saturday was the big day, it started at a farm that would serve as a field hospital, where I would meet the couple in question. That night I would be working at the Museum of Spirits in Gettysburg again. Classic setup the guy scientific; the female more spiritual. Now as I have said before it is widely believed that the museum has spots that work as portals. Well, I go downstairs with the female. We were going to start dowsing and the guy would be along. He was setting up a computer based system that works much like the oblivus. Well the female and I go downstairs and as soon as we arrive, she is working with a ghost radar and I have out my rods. We begin picking up from a spirit. The name that comes through on the radar she knows. It is the name of her father-in-law. She asks several questions only he would know. We get answers in agreement. We come to the agreement it is her father in law. I ask her if she wants to go get her husband on this major development. She answers yes. When they arrive downstairs I tell her you should inform him of what we have encountered. She proceeds to tell him take a seat - this is a major one. We are talking to your father. The man says ok. The man asks several questions soon he to agrees, this is his father.

After this he proceeds to tell me the story of his father passing. That they were not a family who would ever say they love one another. When his father passed he felt that he wanted to say something but did not have the strength and could not get it out. They are able to have that last father and son moment that they missed in life. That he loved him very much and was very proud of his son. The whole time the rods are going in a hugging motion for me. And myself being an empathetic feeling I want to cry, and numb my whole body over and electricity through my full body. I ask him does he want to use the rods he says yes, normally he would not -- does not find them scientific enough. This time he will make an exception. They go right to a hug. At this point the connection begins to fade. The man says afterwards he thought he was around since his death, but this proves it. Following this we go upstairs. He excuses himself and goes outside. He comes back inside but that night ends early, with the man's mind on that the whole time. As he said that pays for the whole night and so much more. That what happened he could not pay enough to equal what that was worth to him.

Flash forward to Halloween week and my MOMENT. This night I would be working at the museum. A couple nights before I told Kelly I was going to write what I just wrote. After what would happen this night it would through many questions into my head. Was what I doing with the paranormal good? Coming from a Roman Catholic family I know what they teach. How do I handle stuff I come into? How do I handle the gift I am given? And to put blunt with it hitting so close to home I was scared.

Recently, I have been learning tarot from Kelly; using them as one more gift for my hunts. Well, I get in early shooting the shit. Working with my cards. At around 7 a couple slip out of my hand and hit the floor. Put them back in and do a three card spread for myself. Draw death, oh it's a symbolic I figure. Been having some problems with a relationship I was in. Later, that night I am sitting in the back room during the investigation. Now we know it was a grow house when it was a fraternity. But, this night I am getting the feeling something heavier. I know it is cocaine. No historical evidence but I know it. Getting burning nose. And the feeling some died of it. Fast forward to two days later. While bowling and my mom calls me and tells me, "your nephew Tony Miles has died of a cocaine overdose." I did not realize it at the time but I knew it. It takes a couple of days to get out the details of time of death and everything. But it turns out that night at the museum I lived his death at the same time. I struggle for a couple days as to what to do. Then I hear my niece experienced something at the same moment to.

I write my sister - tell her love has no bounds it lives far after death. Talk to him he can still hear you. And believe the world is a world of love, and the story I related to you all above by the man and his father, as far as my interpersonal questions go. I got my answer while talking to a female friend of mine. She was putting me and the field down. I tell her without even really thinking about it I wish I could do different but this paranormal field and the way I can help others is what I was put here to do. And at that moment I knew. I knew all the answer I needed to know.

I go to Mass Christmas morning and realize they have changed the words in one part. "Where it used to say all on the earth he governs over" it now says "All things visible and invisible he governs over."

I can only hope and likewise all hope going into 2012 that the big question mark at the end provided by the Mayan's shall be this is the year we as a world learn to open our hearts, minds, and eyes to love -- Like the one my nephew Tony Miles, whom this article is dedicated to, taught me in death.

• COMING SAT JAN. 21

The Smurl Haunting

January 21, 2012 at the National Museum of Mysteries and Research Center

The Smurl haunting refers to claims made by Jack and Janet Smurl of West Pittston, Pennsylvania who alleged that a demon inhabited their home between 1974 and 1989. The Smurl's claims gained wide press attention and were investigated by demonologists who encouraged the Smurl's supernatural beliefs, and clergy, psychologists, and scientific skeptics who offered more parsimonious explanations.

Join Rick Fisher as he talks about this famous case that inspired a movie and book "The Haunted" an open discussion will follow the presentation.

January 21, 2012 – 7:00 PM to 9:00 PM

Cost: $10.00 per person includes lite refreshments.

Payments must be received before January 19, 2012

Send check or money order to

Rick Fisher
109 South 2nd. Street Apt. 2
Columbia, PA 17512

The National Museum of Mysteries and Research center is located at 301 Locust Street on the corner of Third and Locust Streets in Columbia, PA 17512. Entrance is on the Third Street side of the building down the stairs (look for the red railing.)

Comments: This is indeed a famous case and the TV movie (The Haunted) based on it was quite well done. Of course, like the Amityville Horror, its authenticity is subject to scrutiny. (The Warrens were also involved with this one) Being a resident of the region (West Pittston is in the Wilkes Barre - Scranton area) the late Ed Dubil was very familiar with the case, but I cannot recall any of the particulars he shared with us. We plan to attend and hope others in SSP will consider doing so.

Little Blue Demons? When Rick first announced this on the museum FB Page, Melissa jokingly noted that at a glance she thought it was The SMURF Haunting. If such a haunting did take place, certainly it must have been explored by one of the para-reality sitcoms! Thus, I see "The Director" and "Cow-Chip" assuming their normal dramatic poses while the cameras roll and declare it was caused by nasty BLUE demons! - JDW
